Quality time - One to one coaching sessions Coach: Professor John Wattis, consultant psychiatrist Getting the best out of life is a big ambition, especially for those working in the ever-changing NHS. Personal coaching can be a great way to learn to really enjoy life and be highly effective. The essence of coaching is to provide expert structured support to enable people to take charge of their own lives at work and at home, through an approach that is both reflective and action oriented. Coaching skills are useful in many settings: educational supervision, appraisal, mentoring and general management can all be enhanced by use of these skills. The College Education and Training Centre is running a series of one day introductory courses as part of their regular provision. For those who would like to find out more about coaching, the course leader, Professor John Wattis, is offering free coaching sessions of 30-60 minutes during this conference between 8.30 and 17.30 on Tuesday and Wednesday. To book please email your preferred time and date to conference@rcpsych.ac.uk. The sessions are entirely confidential and can be used to talk about coaching or to experience coaching on a one-to-one basis. John Wattis is a visiting Professor an Old Age Psychiatry at the University of Huddersfield. A former Chairman of the Faculty for Psychiatry of Old Age, he has over 30 years' experience in the NHS where he has been a Consultant Psychiatrist, Medical Director and Research & Development Director in several Trusts. He trained as a professional coach prior to his retirement from clinical practice. He currently divides his time between coaching, management support, academic work and extended weekends.									17.45 - 18.45 Welcome Reception, EICC Admission by ticket only – RSVP on registration form 18.30 - 17.30 Blake Marsh Reception, EICC Admission by ticket only – RSVP on registration form Following the Blake Marsh Lecture, the Blake Marsh Reception will take place at the conference venue and all are welcome. Admission by ticket only – RSVP on registration form. 20.00 - 23.30 Blake Marsh Supper, Merchants' Hall Admission by ticket only – RSVP on registration form. Price: £55 Edinburgh's Merchants' Hall was built in the Nineteenth Century to reflect values that are still associated with the Capital: integrity, acumen and accomplishment. Situated in the very heart of the city, The Merchants' Hall treasures combines the best of Art and Architecture to create a building of grace and distinction which includes a Minstrel's Gallery.
