

Royal College of Psychiatrists - Perinatal Psychiatry Masterclass Programme

SAS Psychiatrists (group 1)

Overview

Health Education England has funded the Royal College of Psychiatrists to deliver masterclass programmes for SAS doctors in Perinatal Psychiatry, to support Perinatal Mental Health Services in England. The masterclasses will cover prescribing, safeguarding, infant mental health, forensic and legal issues in the perinatal period, personality dysfunction, lived experience and psychological therapies. The course will include a focus on service development and specifically on implementation of the NHS Long Term plan.

The aims of this masterclass programme are to:

- enable and support SAS doctors in perinatal psychiatry and other services for women of child-bearing potential in their assessment, understanding and management of complex clinical work
- encourage participants to integrate current evidence into clinical practice
- develop self-reflection skills
- emphasise the importance of the perspectives of women, infants, partners and families throughout the perinatal pathway
- improve patient safety
- improve the experience of women and families during the perinatal period and within perinatal mental health services.

The following key issues are fundamental aspects of perinatal mental health care and will be discussed and considered throughout the programme:

- safeguarding children and adults
- culture and difference
- collaborative working with women, partners and families
- women's own experience of perinatal mental disorders and care
- legal issues

Please note:

- Participants are required to attend ALL of the classes.
- The course involves 10 days of participation, all delivered online with presentations, case discussions, and small group work.
- A list of pre-course recommended reading, plus mandatory and recommended reading for each of the programme days will be provided.
- Participants are encouraged to keep a self-reflection journal to explore and develop their own learning.
- Feedback surveys will be completed by participants at the end of each day.
