Many thanks to Hwyl for permission to use the cover artwork. Hwyl is an art project run by Dementia Matters in Powys (DMiP) and Arts Alive Wales based at the Brecon War Memorial Hospital. The project focuses on working with elderly patients on hospital wards, with their families, carers, the ward staff and artists on a weekly basis.

With thanks to Rhiannon Davies (DMiP) and Tessa Waite (Arts Alive Wales).

Introduction to the appendices

This is the appendices for your local report. Your local report is in a separate document. The appendices present data from Round 3 of the National Audit of Dementia, both at a national level and for your hospital. Data for your hospital in Round 2 is also shown where applicable. When comparing Round 2 data with Round 3 data, please be aware that differences in sample sizes and slight wording changes to some questions, can affect results in both rounds. Therefore, conclusions made from comparing the data should be with caution. Hospitals with less than five returns for the carer or staff questionnaires have not received any data and returns of 5 to 9 questionnaires have not received demographic information. The table below shows how the data tables in the appendices are laid out and what information you can find in each cell.

Std no. [Type]	Question number and text		National audit Round 3: % Num/Den	Your hospital Round 3: % Num/Den	Your hospital Round 2: % Num/Den
Standard reference and type. Standards document can be found on the audit website .	Question number. Orange items in the casenote audit appendix show low inter-rater reliability.	Question wording as in tool.	The national audit refers to all hospitals from England and Wales that participated in the Round 3 audit.	Data for your hospital from Round 3.	If the same question or a similar question was asked in Round 2, we have provided your Round 2 response for comparison. The carer and staff questionnaires are new tools and therefore this column has been excluded in these appendices.
			We have provided the percentage 'yes' response (unless otherwise indicated) and the numerator/denominator. The denominator will change throughout the appendices, depending on whether questions were routed (not asked in some instances), 'N/A' responses were chosen (these have been excluded from the analyses), or where staff and carers did not respond.

For the organisational checklist, data from 199 hospitals are included in the national audit column (all the registered participants).

195 hospitals participated in the casenote audit, returning 10047 casenotes and this is shown in the national audit column. The national audit column for the casenote audit also shows the median and the inter quartile range for each question (where applicable). Question items which were found to have lower agreement in the inter-rater reliability analysis (see audit website) have been coloured orange.

196 hospitals returned carer questionnaires. Data from all questionnaires (4664) is presented in the carer questionnaire data tables in Appendix E.

198 hospitals returned staff questionnaires. Data from all questionnaires (14416) is presented in Appendix G. For some questionnaire items, the data for the two most positive answers have been combined, as well as being presented separately. This is provided both at a national level and for your hospital.

Appendix H: Staff suggestions for your hospital

The staff questionnaire included a question asking staff to make one suggestion on how their hospital could improve care and support provided to people with dementia. Below, all suggestions from staff at St Peter's Hospital, Chertsey are provided.

Registered Nurses (Band 5 or 6)

A longer teaching day specific to dementia. 1 hour was not long enough, specialist link nurses. I would be very interested.

Additional staffing as these patients need more time from nursing staff. It would be helpful if the diagnosis of dementia is established sooner.

All care providers in the hospital must have dementia training.

All staff should have proper dementia training.

Colour coding doors and toilet facilities etc. Finger food availability would be great within the hospital environment.

Dementia training.

Following the Brooker VIPS model of care. I think more training (in house/ challenging behaviour). More topics on advance directive.

I believe that there needs to be a trained dementia care nurse to be present on the wards to advise us [on] how to provide better care to these patients. As these patients are on the general wards, they do not get the skilled care as the staff are not trained and not aware of those needs. I feel these patients are not getting the proper care, it's very hit and miss. The staff do not have the knowledge required. At times, when we are trying to deal with any situation e.g. increased confusion, patient getting violent and aggressive, I think we just make those situations even worse through lack of understanding. Many times, staff get frustrated and are unsure of what to do.

More support from dementia specialist services.

New bay being converted for dementia patients at present - lots of work being carried out.

Someone to contact if there is a patient with complex needs that the staff on the ward are finding difficult to manage. If there is such a person, e.g. a dementia specialist nurse, then this person is not well recognised at all.

The hospital could provide some kind of entertainment to the patients e.g. games, table or games with cards

Registered Nurses (Band 7 or above)

Better training and support for people who are providing 1:1 support for patients.

Better understanding of the perception given when treating and caring for dementia patients.

Having increased staff to patient ratio would certainly help ensure all patients needs are met.

Having staff that care in the first place then have the right training and then the time to deliver the care.

If patients with dementia are transferred into the hospital from nursing/ residential home then a carer who knows the patient should stay.

Increase in admiral nurses to provide 7 day a week service.

Registered Nurses (Band 7 or above)

More activities as they get bored. We need to encourage patients to get dressed in day wear if sitting out and not too unwell. Very difficult with breakfast, lunch and dinner. Need more snacks, especially savoury to offer patients between meals.

More dementia friendly bays. More staff in wards pre- and post mealtimes to facilitate eating at dining table.

More staff on ward to be able to carry out activities to motivate and stimulate the patient.

We are getting there but need sustained training and embedding of practices.

Healthcare Assistants

Create an entertainment centre in the hospital where [there] could be different activities.

Dementia specialist team can give more support and training for the staff.

Early diagnosis. When patients are admitted to hospital they become confused or develop delirium, it is difficult to differentiate with dementia. Compulsory dementia screening for people over a certain age.

Everything comes down to time, time, time - and staff! Dementia patients need much more personal, intensive care and recognition of them as an individual. In an ideal world, staff would have proper conversations with family members to identify any likes/ dislikes that the patient may have. They should obtain and record a brief social history to provide information to engage in meaningful communication with the patient. The hospital should adopt regular use of the Alzheimer's Society's 'This is me' leaflet - to enable the person with dementia to be seen and valued as an individual.

More information on dementia available as an outpatient for patients returning for follow ups

More staff is good to be able to give more time to the patient, but it is important to have continuity of some staff as to know that individual patient's routine and their triggers when they are getting anxious, it is then easier to dilute any anxious behaviours.

More training would be a help and more activities for the ward, when we have time. It would also be nice to offer somewhere like a table (even a fold up one) where patients can have lunch or do activities during the quieter periods of the day (if there are any!!!!)

Provide more training to staff on how to care for patients with dementia.

Think family should also get involved with their relative's care when they visit them. Most of the time they don't seem to be interested in helping their loved ones when they visit them. Family getting involved can be [useful] - helping them with feeding or assisting them to go to the toilet when they need to. Relatives seem to be relying on nurses for everything which is not good for a patient who has dementia.

We are lucky at our hospital as we have a ward designed to accommodate every need of a dementia patient and our staff are well trained. My only feedback would be allowing them more time to spend with these patients, just sitting, talking and not having to rush away so often.

We should have someone who's dementia trained at weekend.

Doctors

Improve community provision to prevent needless admissions.

Allied Healthcare Professionals

Appoint specialist dementia care nurses and health care assistants.

Better training for nursing staff who regularly 'special' or 'one to one' patients with dementia.

Ensure caregivers are given the opportunity to complete a 'This is me' information form or equivalent and information passed onto ward staff.

Greater proportion of awareness to all members of staff who come into contact with patients.

I think more training is needed on mental capacity, e.g. what it is, when should assessments be done, how they should be done and documented, and who by. Also, application of the mental capacity act, e.g. Powers of Attorney, Best Interests, deprivation of liberty safeguards and when to use independent mental capacity advocates.

Making use of the communal area in the recently refurbished dementia bay i.e. for activities, shared mealtimes etc.

More activities for patients with dementia to engage in.

More staff on the ward needed.

More staffing to increase stimulation and decrease cognitive decline in hospital.

More support from senior management to release staff for training and thinking 'outside the box' that spending extra time with people who are anxious [and] agitated can actually decrease workload not increase it.

More training for the multidisciplinary team.

Training staff better.

Students

No comments from students for your hospital.

Therapy Assistants & Allied Healthcare Professional Assistants

Better staffing level to accommodate increased SV and support challenging behaviour.

Having specialist dementia professionals on each ward, or covering specific wards.

The hospital in general has plenty of things in place, but it is not always available on all the wards, and some nursing staff are not fully aware of them. Sign posted a little more.

Ward-based Administrators

More training/ better understanding.

Further develop Surrey and Borders Partnership (mental health trust) liaison with dementia team e.g. meet up to share best practice and learning. Establish dementia champions - but need support of ward sisters/ matrons to allow them to do training/ take on this role. Promote forget me not scheme to increase patient/ carer/ ward/ doctors' communication. Either offer secondments between Ashford and St Peter's Hospital and Surrey and Borders Partnership NHS Trust or shifts on wards in both trust sites to promote guided learning/ experience between staff.
