Many thanks to Hwyl for permission to use the cover artwork. Hwyl is an art project run by Dementia Matters in Powys (DMiP) and Arts Alive Wales based at the Brecon War Memorial Hospital. The project focuses on working with elderly patients on hospital wards, with their families, carers, the ward staff and artists on a weekly basis.

With thanks to Rhiannon Davies (DMiP) and Tessa Waite (Arts Alive Wales).

Introduction to the appendices

This is the appendices for your local report. Your local report is in a separate document. The appendices present data from Round 3 of the National Audit of Dementia, both at a national level and for your hospital. Data for your hospital in Round 2 is also shown where applicable. When comparing Round 2 data with Round 3 data, please be aware that differences in sample sizes and slight wording changes to some questions, can affect results in both rounds. Therefore, conclusions made from comparing the data should be with caution. Hospitals with less than five returns for the carer or staff questionnaires have not received any data and returns of 5 to 9 questionnaires have not received demographic information. The table below shows how the data tables in the appendices are laid out and what information you can find in each cell.

Std no. [Type]	Question number and text		National audit Round 3: % Num/Den	Your hospital Round 3: % Num/Den	Your hospital Round 2: % Num/Den
Standard reference and type. Standards document can be found on the audit website .	Question number. Orange items in the casenote audit appendix show low inter-rater reliability.	Question wording as in tool.	The national audit refers to all hospitals from England and Wales that participated in the Round 3 audit.	Data for your hospital from Round 3.	If the same question or a similar question was asked in Round 2, we have provided your Round 2 response for comparison. The carer and staff questionnaires are new tools and therefore this column has been excluded in these appendices.
			We have provided the percentage 'yes' response (unless otherwise indicated) and the numerator/denominator. The denominator will change throughout the appendices, depending on whether questions were routed (not asked in some instances), 'N/A' responses were chosen (these have been excluded from the analyses), or where staff and carers did not respond.

For the organisational checklist, data from 199 hospitals are included in the national audit column (all the registered participants).

195 hospitals participated in the casenote audit, returning 10047 casenotes and this is shown in the national audit column. The national audit column for the casenote audit also shows the median and the inter quartile range for each question (where applicable). Question items which were found to have lower agreement in the inter-rater reliability analysis (see audit website) have been coloured orange.

196 hospitals returned carer questionnaires. Data from all questionnaires (4664) is presented in the carer questionnaire data tables in Appendix E.

198 hospitals returned staff questionnaires. Data from all questionnaires (14416) is presented in Appendix G. For some questionnaire items, the data for the two most positive answers have been combined, as well as being presented separately. This is provided both at a national level and for your hospital.

Appendix H: Staff suggestions for your hospital

The staff questionnaire included a question asking staff to make one suggestion on how their hospital could improve care and support provided to people with dementia. Below, all suggestions from staff at Freeman Hospital are provided.

Registered Nurses (Band 5 or 6)

Activities. Couple of days a week, to keep minds active and occupied.
Activity workers to promote individuality and keeping mind active. Taking part in activities in reminiscing past times.
All staff need to learn about the specific needs of dementia patients. More training is required which should be mandatory to show how important this issue is.
Better use of "Forget Me Nots".
By enabling and encouraging the staff on the ward to undertake dementia care training/ study days etc.
Care of the elderly wards with high numbers of patients with dementia are understaffed to meet the need of patients, especially those with dementia with only two members of staff to 15+ patients.
Continuing to educate staff and provide additional support to staff dealing with patients with dementia.
Dedicated prompting and assistance with feeding and drinks on all of the wards. I am a great believer in the old fashioned "hourly fluids" to avoid dehydration. More flexibility and encouragement with families being involved - with bringing special foods from home, particularly when hospital food is being refused.
Encourage better use of the forget me not document.
Ensure more comfortable seating is available to encourage carers to stay on the ward, if they wish to.
Face to face teaching.
Further education and information about support.
Get rid of those dreadful curtains.
Involve patients' families/ carers more. Have face to face training for staff.
More pre-admission information for planned admissions would improve care as an inpatient.
More staff so that staff would have more time to spend with patients and not feel pressured to hurry.
More time and staff.
They could provide more staff to increase the extra input needed to help patients with dementia feel safe and express their needs. Where there is low staffing, it is difficult to achieve this.

Registered Nurses (Band 7 or above)

A dual care ward to look after patients with dementia, and other mental health needs, who present with physical problems - with staff who are both trained in, and have an interest in, nursing patients with dementia would be great.
By making it clear to family they are welcome at any time if they wish to stay on the ward.
Continued use of "forget me not" cards - ideally from admission through the hospital journey.
Employ more staff with a direct responsibility to help care for these patients/ give them the extra attention they require.
Encourage carers to come in and help their relatives more.
Expand the provision of dementia friendly signage across all wards.

Registered Nurses (Band 7 or above)

Further access to education and training. Make it mandatory and have designated time to complete it.

Increased visibility of dementia care team in surgical wards.

More discussion of their specific needs at safety huddles.

More specialist dementia staff including HCAs, pharmacist, AHPs. Specialist dementia/ delirium ward. Intermediate care placements for "further period of recovery".

Perhaps the patients care may be improved if there were activities to distract patients with dementia.

The trust implemented a "Forget Me Not" scheme which provides simple personal information about patients such as likes, dislikes, preferred form of address etc. to assist all staff caring for patients. Unfortunately, this is not always completed and needs to be further encouraged.

Healthcare Assistants

Additional staff training regarding dementia.

As an HCA supporting people with dementia, it is very draining, we have no time to spend with the patient for small periods of time to chat to them and if they are a high falls risk they are either in bed or chair. I do feel as a HCA I need more training on dementia. I know the outcome of patients with dementia, but it can be very stressful when they are lashing out and thumping, kicking, shouting, nipping and it takes two, maybe three, staff to change that person - that alone makes the patient more violent but what do you do if they need to be changed? More training on how to hold them without this being abusive - as walking away to come back later doesn't always work.

Better training in early signs would definitely be an advantage. I worked for 15 years in mental health caring for dementia sufferers but many hospital staff don't have this background. We rely on the patient already being diagnosed or on information from family members but if the patient hasn't been diagnosed, we could be crucial in picking up on the signs and helping them get the help and support they need.

Better training on dementia. I worked in a dementia home for 6 years, I went on the dementia course at the hospital but felt they didn't really explain dementia how it really is. Wasn't enough information.

Different activities supplied on the wards, encouraging tea parties.

Families could be encouraged to enter the ward to assist with relation - this may help to settle them.

Give all staff dementia training.

More often than not, very short staffed! More staff would enable more time with those who need it. Although time is always given, it may be at another's expense.

More staff available so can have more 1 to 1 care.

More staff available to help with wandering patients with dementia who pose a danger to themselves and others.

More staff for patients who are at risk of falls.

More staff on the ward.

More staff so we have time to spend with them.

More staff.

More staffing.

More stimulation is needed. Someone to do that, other than the ward staff, would be fantastic.

More training and different things on the ward to help reduce boredom if in bed for a long period of time - to stop patient from getting anxious.

To work alongside a dementia specialist with each individual to assess the needs of the patient.

Doctors

24/7 access to telephone advice.

Alerting ward staff specifically to dementia patients to allow them to have more specific action taken to ensure their care is appropriate, e.g. more time for meals and additional help with meals, longer conversations on the ward round to ensure that everything is explained to them in a manner which they understand.

Dementia specialist nurses would be useful. It should be clearly documented at the front of the notes if a patient has dementia and who their mental health nurse/ doctor is.

Use our scheme for recording personal preferences more ("Forget me not").

Allied Healthcare Professionals

Activities.

An "about me" document that is with the person at all times; similar to that found in many nursing homes.

Ensure all patients have the "all about me" form filled in to give us information about likes and dislikes.

Ensuring that all, not just some, patients with dementia have a fully filled out "forget me not" form.

Improved environment, less 'hospital' [like].

Make us aware that the patient has dementia when x-ray is requested.

Referrers for both inpatients and outpatients to provide information about a patient's dementia on referral documents.

Teach staff and do refresher courses on dementia more frequently.

Students

No comments from students for your hospital.

Therapy Assistants & Allied Healthcare Professional Assistants

I feel if we had more support staff to spend time with people with dementia, it would cause less accidents or falls as they would have someone to support and remind them where they are at all times.

Ward-based Administrators

At mealtimes, staff should give patients more support. I know that because of staff numbers this is very difficult but imagine how you would feel if you came to visit a family member and found that their meal was untouched because no assistance had been given. Just putting food in front of a patient does not mean they will eat.

Music therapy and memorabilia. Could do with ward admin training in regards to dementia.

Other / Unknown

Ward doctors/ward staff keeping family/ carers updated with what is happening in regard to care and discharge.
