Many thanks to Hwyl for permission to use the cover artwork. Hwyl is an art project run by Dementia Matters in Powys (DMiP) and Arts Alive Wales based at the Brecon War Memorial Hospital. The project focuses on working with elderly patients on hospital wards, with their families, carers, the ward staff and artists on a weekly basis.

With thanks to Rhiannon Davies (DMiP) and Tessa Waite (Arts Alive Wales).

Introduction to the appendices

This is the appendices for your local report. Your local report is in a separate document. The appendices present data from Round 3 of the National Audit of Dementia, both at a national level and for your hospital. Data for your hospital in Round 2 is also shown where applicable. When comparing Round 2 data with Round 3 data, please be aware that differences in sample sizes and slight wording changes to some questions, can affect results in both rounds. Therefore, conclusions made from comparing the data should be with caution. Hospitals with less than five returns for the carer or staff questionnaires have not received any data and returns of 5 to 9 questionnaires have not received demographic information. The table below shows how the data tables in the appendices are laid out and what information you can find in each cell.

Std no. [Type]	Question number and text		National audit Round 3: % Num/Den	Your hospital Round 3: % Num/Den	Your hospital Round 2: % Num/Den
Standard reference and type. Standards document can be found on the audit website .	Question number. Orange items in the casenote audit appendix show low inter-rater reliability.	Question wording as in tool.	The national audit refers to all hospitals from England and Wales that participated in the Round 3 audit.	Data for your hospital from Round 3.	If the same question or a similar question was asked in Round 2, we have provided your Round 2 response for comparison. The carer and staff questionnaires are new tools and therefore this column has been excluded in these appendices.
			We have provided the percentage 'yes' response (unless otherwise indicated) and the numerator/denominator. The denominator will change throughout the appendices, depending on whether questions were routed (not asked in some instances), 'N/A' responses were chosen (these have been excluded from the analyses), or where staff and carers did not respond.

For the organisational checklist, data from 199 hospitals are included in the national audit column (all the registered participants).

195 hospitals participated in the casenote audit, returning 10047 casenotes and this is shown in the national audit column. The national audit column for the casenote audit also shows the median and the inter quartile range for each question (where applicable). Question items which were found to have lower agreement in the inter-rater reliability analysis (see audit website) have been coloured orange.

196 hospitals returned carer questionnaires. Data from all questionnaires (4664) is presented in the carer questionnaire data tables in Appendix E.

198 hospitals returned staff questionnaires. Data from all questionnaires (14416) is presented in Appendix G. For some questionnaire items, the data for the two most positive answers have been combined, as well as being presented separately. This is provided both at a national level and for your hospital.

Appendix H: Staff suggestions for your hospital

The staff questionnaire included a question asking staff to make one suggestion on how their hospital could improve care and support provided to people with dementia. Below, all suggestions from staff at South Tyneside District Hospital are provided.

Registered Nurses (Band 5 or 6)
All staff given dementia training.
Better prompts for toilet and bathroom. Currently we have 'shower room' on the ensuite door. This becomes confusing if someone who has dementia is independently mobile and needs the toilet, especially through the night. Red Plates for those with dementia have proved to be beneficial when used in other areas. These facilities would be worth trying here.
Better staffing levels, maybe more volunteers, especially at mealtimes.
Ensuring something is on site to help to stimulate the patients.
Follow advice from Alzheimer's society i.e. rummage boxes, picture board. Always ask family to complete "this is me", ask family for personal photographs, have photo album of family, reminiscence technology.
Limiting the movement of patients around the hospital. More dementia and communication training and updates for all members of staff. How to support the carers. Having specialist dementia nurses.
More people to spend time with patients who have dementia, to free up clinical staff.
More reminiscence technology for wards with high levels of patients with cognitive impairment.
More staff ratio for patients.
More staff to give you time to spend with these patients.
More staff to patient ratio, activities utilised better.
More staff training.
More staffing.
More ward training.
Need support from mental health, more staff.
Not move dementia patients from ward to ward and try to ensure they are on the most suitable ward so their needs can be met.
Obvious one is more staff and more training and the actual application of this training. Also, mixing dementia patients with medical patients is not good for either group - dementia patients at risk of falls seem to take precedence over the poorly person in bed.
Providing details of preferred foods, tea/ coffee preferences as patients can't always express these needs. A booklet with information in with likes and dislikes would be useful. Similar to "my health record".
Staff on general nursing wards need support and guidance from staff who have experience with patients with dementia (at all stages)... whether that is verbal advice or, sometimes we need an experienced staff member to visit the ward and help with completing a plan of care in how to nurse a patient with dementia successfully.
Staffing levels looking at areas patients with dementia are put and times they are moved.
Staffing! Encouraging the use of tools such as "this is me" leaflet! Finding out who main carer is and working with them as it's not always the family who know them best. A lot more training and understanding of condition. More time and specialised staff.
Training and understanding of those with dementia. Information on facilities and equipment that can be accessed for patients etc.

Registered Nurses (Band 5 or 6)

Training for staff.

Training/ time allocation/ equipment/ stimulation/ ward layout. Management needs to respect protected mealtimes.

Wards with more dementia patients will have higher risks of falls and therefore would benefit from more staff.

Registered Nurses (Band 7 or above)

I went to hear a speaker whose mother had dementia, absolutely fantastic and I always take information back to staff. However, the opportunity for more staff at all grades who [would] benefit, and aren't able to at this time - as I am not aware this gentleman is coming back to the trust to speak.

Increase in staff numbers to enable staff to spend more time.

Increase training opportunities but make courses short and succinct to enable nurses to be released from the ward.

Healthcare Assistants

Families could bring in photo albums, personal items and they could come in and sit with them. Photos, past and present, help with memory, past information. Should have more choice of DVDs, books, colours, games, hairdresser.

I feel staff do not have sufficient time to spend with patients due to lack of staff on the ward. Staff are often moved to cover other wards, leaving the ward short staffed.

More "this is me" documents to know more about different types of dementia.

More staff and more training definitely.

More staff on a daily basis to accommodate one to one dementia patient care.

More staff on the wards. Never enough time to "go into their world".

More training.

We could get annual training for this as not everyone has training. I have been here six years and have not had dementia training. But we give good quality of care to every patient.

Doctors

I feel that the hospital might better support those who have dementia by provided some elements to represent normal life at the patient's bedside. For example, each patient having a clock and calendar - or being able to easily see one would be a positive move - especially across our three elderly care wards. Clear, patient-friendly - yet non-intrusive - signage would also be a help (so patients prone to wander are reminded as to their location - and being in a hospital - may help with sundown agitation for example).

Improved initial diagnosis pathways with the mental health trust.

More nursing staff, more medical staff, better ward environment to promote return to functional state e.g. home from home.

Reduce the number of times a patient is moved between clinical areas and wards.

Allied Healthcare Professionals

Better training of support staff. Orientation information with patient. Not a support worker constantly shouting 'you're in hospital, love'. Dementia and high falls risk patients should be cared for in the same area with a staff member present at all times, rather than spreading dementia patients over the ward and expecting other patients to ring on their behalf. (Northumbria health authority has a good model).

I am really impressed with the standard of dementia awareness offered within the trust. I think a way to improve would be to perhaps consider implementing the "This is me" document, similar to "My Healthcare Record" which are provided for people with learning disabilities. This would allow staff to be aware (by looking in the document) of patients' needs, likes, dislikes, preferences, things which distress/ calm them etc.

More time to be able to spend with these people.

Students

More stimulation for patients.

Picture books.

Therapy Assistants & Allied Healthcare Professional Assistants

Having more staff, enabling more time to be spent with patients.

Ward-based Administrators

I feel that patients would benefit from having someone who is not ward based to come to the ward and talk, interact with them, giving them the chance to chat and feel more comfortable in the surroundings. A nice friendly face.

More staff needed for patients' safety e.g. fallers and also to sit and talk to patients who feel confused, bored, lonely and anxious.

More training.
