

8 | Empowerment

Everyone is encouraged to develop their personal authority

In an enabling environment everyone should have a voice. People feel able to ask questions and discuss all aspects of their surroundings. It does not mean that authority will be undermined for decisions overturned, but that everyone will be listened to, their views considered, and can expect to see some change happen. This openness is welcomed by the organisation who encourage and support ways of doing it.

