

7 | Structure

Engagement and purposeful activity is actively encouraged

Having a structured environment and a regular routine, timetable, or rota means everyone knows what they are doing, and can feel safe. Having regular meetings involving everyone together where everyone is encouraged to take part, helps bring people together and build relationships. This standard is also about opportunities for everybody to spend informal time together too

