About the Service

An online and telephone service that helps patients and the public find and take part in vital dementia research studies.

Delivered in partnership by NIHR CRN, Alzheimer's Society, Alzheimer's Research UK and Alzheimer Scotland

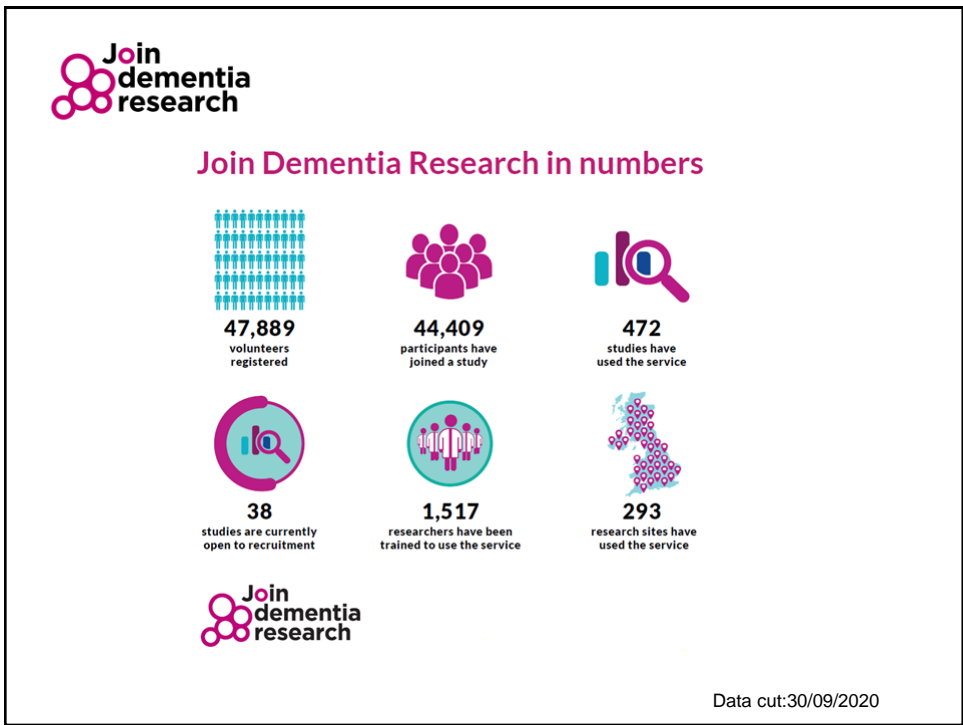

The screenshot shows the website's homepage with a navigation bar, a main banner for signing up, and sections for 'WHO CAN HELP RESEARCHERS TO BEAT DEMENTIA?', 'Welcome to Join Dementia Research', 'Help us beat dementia', and 'Useful links'. It also features a 'Tweets @ join_dementia' section.

Why embed JDR into patient pathways?

A survey of Join Dementia Research volunteers (most of whom have a diagnosis) showed that:

- 78% (62 out of 80 respondents) would want to have been told about Join Dementia Research as soon as possible after their diagnosis
- 58% (81 out of 140 respondents) thought the best person to tell them about Join Dementia Research would be their healthcare professionals

We also know that:

- Giving people the opportunity to participate in research gives them hope and a crucial sense of agency
- Even where people do not sign up they like to be given the opportunity!

Talking about research helps meet NICE and NHSE guidance

The need to share research opportunities and the use of Join Dementia Research are recommendations in:

- NICE Guidelines Dementia: assessment, management and support for people living with dementia and their carers
- NHS England's Dementia: Good Care Planning Guidance

Join Dementia Research provides a simple mechanism to meet these recommendations as it matches registrants to relevant studies in real time.

Ways to promote the service

- Share information about the service in consultation
- Follow up with emails with further information about the service and information on how to join
- Post out paper applications or promotional materials to people with a dementia diagnosis
- Share our charity helpdesk contact information so that potential volunteers can find out more about the service over the phone
- We are planning to add a call back service to JDR where professionals will be able to sign patients
