

3rd International Symposium of the Evolutionary Psychiatry Special Interest Group (EPSIG)

Friday 22 March 2019

Royal College of Psychiatrists, 21 Prescot Street London E1 8BB

Time	Session
9.00-9.30	Registration, welcome and coffee
9.30-9.35	Welcome Dr Riadh Abed EPSIG Chair
9.35-9.40	Morning Session Chair: Prof George Ikkos
9.40-10.25	Keynote: Human ethology and the understanding of personality disorder Dr Gerhard Medicus (Austria)
10.25-10.40	Q&A
10.40-11.25	Keynote: Surviving at the cost of suffering: The mixed blessings of our evolved neuroplastic brains Dr Haley Peckham (Australia)
11.25-11.40	Q&A
11.40-11.55	Coffee Break
11.55-12.40	Keynote: Can evolutionary thinking shed light on gender diversity: A view from the clinic Bernadette Wren (UK)
12.40-12.55	Q&A
12.55-13.45	Lunch
13.45-13.50	Afternoon Session Chair: Dr Paul St John-Smith
13.50-14.35	Keynote: An evolutionary model of depression Prof Markus Rantala (Finland)
14.35-14.50	Q&A
14.50-15.35	Keynote: Depression: What (if anything) is it, and what are its evolutionary origins? Prof Daniel Nettle (UK)
15.35-15.50	Q&A
15.50-16.05	Coffee Break
16.05-16.50	Keynote: Form follows function: An evolutionary model of the structure of psychopathology Prof Marco Del Giudice (USA)
16.50-17.00	Q&A
17.00-17.30	General Discussion and Close

The conference dinner will be at 19.00. This will need to be booked separately online.