Dear Colleagues

June is the month of the 2018 International Congress (IC2018) of the Royal College of Psychiatrists taking place in Birmingham, UK from the 24th-27th. The College has put together an outstanding scientific program which you can access here. Information about the keynote speakers can be found here.

Our Division is represented in two symposia. On Monday 25th June (4.45pm-6 pm), symposium S22: Mental Health Care for Underserved Populations – Ethnic Inequalities is organised together with the Western Pacific International Division and features talks by Prof. Kenneth R. Kaufman (Rutgers Robert Wood Johnson Medical School, USA), Prof. Kamaldeep S. Bhui (Queen Mary University of London, UK), Prof. Steve Kisely (The University of Queensland, Australia), Professor Sara Evans–Lacko and Wagner Silva-Ribeiro (London School of Economics and Political Science, UK).

On Tuesday 26th June (9.40am-10.55am), symposium S25: Where should I publish: A guide for students, trainees, researchers, and consultants provides practical ideas and tips presented by Prof. Kenneth R. Kaufman (editor of the BJPsych Open), Prof. Kamaldeep S. Bhui (editor of the British Journal of Psychiatry) and Prof. Steve Kisely (who serves on the editorial board of major international journals).

During the IC2018, the chairs of the international divisions will have their formal annual meeting the College’s President and key officers. This year the focus is on enhancing the membership experience. This is a college-wide initiative which offers international members an opportunity to discuss our needs and priorities. Our division has been ahead of this curve as we have already conducted a survey on this topic in November 2017 and shared the results in our December newsletter that can be accessed here. We plan to discuss the survey results at the IC2018 and also to suggest that the College considers the following: (a) widening the eligibility criteria for awards and prizes to allow applications from international members or adding new award categories for international members; (b) including the chairs of the international divisions (or their delegates) as fixed members of the scientific committee of the International Congress; (c) providing formal guidance for how international members can continue to meet the requirements for good professional standing, CPD and revalidation for those who wish to maintain their UK licence. If you have further comments or ideas please email us at panamericandivision@rcpsych.ac.uk

See you at the IC2018!

_RCPsych PanAm Book club_

The book club features books (recommended by our members). The topic has to be relevant to psychiatry and neuroscience from either a scientific, literary or societal perspective. Self-nominations by authors who are college members are welcome. Please provide a brief comment for each recommendation but this is optional. Any ideas? Please send them in at panamericandivision@rcpsych.ac.uk NB: Inclusion of a book in the PanAm Book Club does not imply endorsement or promotion by the RCPsych.
